The race is free for all and no party nominations have been made. Speaking of state politics, Mr. Brown, who is an attorney, seid: "I am for Mr. Mills for any position he desires. I really think ho is rather high spirited to hold a position like speaker of the house of representatives; but, nevertheless, he will make a the presidence of the desires. representatives; but, nevertheless, he will make a line presiding officer. If he desires to go into the senate after his term as speaker expires (and I am of the opinion he will be elected speaker) I think he will make a very strong race. In fact, I do not think that there is a man in Texas who can stand sefore his opposition. Mr. Hogg is a very popular gentleman, and would make a strong race; but I think that his position in nutlent politics would give the victory to Mr. Mills. However, I have no idea that Mr. Hogg will be a candidate, and mention Mr. Hogg will be a candidate, and mention him as the only man who could meet Mr.

Meeting Mr. D. C. Brown, manager of the Welch company of Version, What-Not asked him what he thought of the mercan-tile corporation bill. In reply he said: "Speaking of that bill, I am like the farmer who was picking some corn that was al-most hidden from view by the weeds. He was using an old blind mare without roins, and every now and then he would stop his mare, so in front of her and blaze out a way anoching the weeds down with a club, Finally he came to a place where the weeds absolutely covered the corn, and he began an industrious search for the green sprigs, stooping down to peer through the weeds Failing to find my evidence of the corn, he returned to the plow, whacked the mare over the back and said: 'Get up! Mr. C. E. Gwinn is a prominent citizen of Hartington, W. Va., and is an interesting and well-informed conversationalist. In reply to What-Not's questions he said: "Politically, our state is now quiet. A year or two ago we had quite an interesting contest between Goff, Republican, and Fleming, Democrat, for the gubernatorial chair. But Governor Wilson held the office three months over his term, and the courts decided in favor of Fleming. We also had a congressional contest, in which also had a congressional contest, in which a Republican congress seated Jackson, a Republican by giving him a majority of two votes. Since that time Fleming has been re-elected, and the Fifth congressional district defeated Jackson by 2700 votes. Thus, you see, West Virginia has returned to the straight and narrow road and we expect to keep the grand old state straight or break a suspender."

What-Not—"What about the Democratic

What-Not—"What about the Democratic nominee in 1892?"

Mr. Gwinn—"Well, I think West Virginia will send a Cleveland delegation. While our people are against his views on silver, we think that he is a Democrat, and, if instructed by a Democratic platform, will recommend the passage of a free coinage bill as a party measure. It is true that he is opposed to such a bill; but we feel that he will bow to the will of his constituents and assist his morty in every legitimate and assist his party in every legitimate and honorable way. In other words, we and honorable way. In other words, we do not think that Cleveland will stand in

AN INIQUITOUS MEASURE. Judge F. E. Piner of Denton, an exscenator and ex-district judge of the Gainesville district, was met by What-Not yesterday and was found to be strongly opposed to the uniform text bill. He said: "Now, honest, will THE GAZETTE permit such an iniquitous measure as that to pass the legisture? My friend, that bill is loaded to the murrle and not a state in the union has adopted it without kicking itself for doing it. The feature that I most strenuously onit. The feature that I most strenuously op-pose is that it creates a grinding monopoly. Besides, no legislature will enact a law that provides for a certain grade of paper and a certain body type, and a company, after securing the monopoly, can rob the middle by mixting the books on an infarior public by printing the books on an inferior grade of paper. Of course, the books will be in vogue for at least two years, and the firm that has the state contract has the electrotypes and material for printing the books on hand when the time rolls around for another bid. They are thus prepared for a low bid, and it is reasonable to sup pose that no other firm can successfully bid against them, as it will be put to the exarainst them, as it will be put to the expense of preparing the electrotypes, etc., for the new publication. This will give the successful company a perpetual monopoly, and we may expect that it will use it with vim and energy, extorting from dealers and robbing the poor. If the legislature will give us a district system, by which every district can adopt its own books and leave a way for competition to regulate prices, I may be induced to support; but I am uncomprobe induced to support; but I am uncompro-misingly opposed to the creation of a in-fernal monopoly that will grow rich, opu-lent and powerful off the earnings of the poor mechanics and already impoverished farmers. Our children must be educated; but we should not make their education an agency of extortion that makes their mental culture an unbearable burden upon the poor parents. Of course, our public schools are for the benefit of the poor and they should be operated in such a manner as to place them within reach of this class. Thus them within reach of this class. Thus while a few school teachers, who think they are the embodiment of wisdom and they are the embounders of wiscom and learning attempting to manipulate legislation in the interest of a trust, the great state of Texas should consider the interests of the public and give the poor people a chance to give their children a common education. If our school teachers are anxious to experiment with Eastern "fads" let them combine themselves to the children whose parents are willing to foot the bill. The Texas school fund is not in a condition The fexas scalor than 5 and a character.

O be frittered away on pedagogical notions that in no manner facilitate education, and the only way that the children can secure an education is by application and study. It is a matter of little consequence what text books they study if they apply themselves, and all the teachers and text books in the readt will not make a scholar out of in the world will not make a scholar out of a boy who is compelled to help his father in the cotton field in order to procure a

TEXAS IN TYPE.

TEXAS CROPS AND WEATHER.

The visible supply of wheat is much less than it was at this same period last year, says the Vernon Guard. The "visible" prospect in Wilbarger county is 75 per cent better for a good yield than it was at this time last year. The estimates place the acreage in wheat alone in the county at 100,000 acres. The chances are that it will average twenty bushels per acre; but if it is only fifteen, that is 1,500,000 bushels for this county alone, while nearly that much will be received from Greer.

In Bastrop county the corn acroage will be considerably greater than last year. The farmers of Montague county are preparing to plant a large acreage in cotton. The acreage now devoted to wheat, corn, oats, etc., is greater than last year. Corn is doing nicely in Tom Green county and outs have an excellent stand. A great deal of cotton will be planted. Farming in LaSalle county is preceptibly on the increase, says the Cotulla Times. The late rains have done incalculable good in this direction. Our neighbor, Mr. Lake, has planted 100 acres in cotton, which is

The Coleman county fruit which was reported destroyed by the cold spell is all safe. Only the very forward blooms were injured, and not enough to hurt the crop. WICHITA FALLS, March 31 .- The outlook for an abundant crop in this never better than at this time.

TEXAS SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES.

The dedicatory services of the Baptist church at Iowa Park were held Sunday. Church conference began Monday morning and will continue during the week.

Ladonia, Fannin county, has taken charge of her schools, and contemplates building a $10,000 public school building. The Sherman Register, in an article on church extension, recently had the follow-ing: Second Baptist—Pursuant to notice there was a business meeting at the Second Baptist church yesterday afternoon, at which it was decided to make an improvement in the place of worship in this city. A number were in favor of making an addition to the present frame building, but others were in favor of building a new brick edifice that would be a credit to the city. The matter is now in the hands of an executive committee. One thing is certain; some improvement of a creditable nature will be made at once. St. Mary's Catholic— The present church building is entirely too small to necommodate the congregations who gather there at regular services. Work will begin on the enlargement of the build-ng in a very short time. It is estimated the improvement will cost about $2000.

WEATHERPORD, March 31 .- Weatherford is justly proud of her schools. The system of public free schools of the city can't be surpassed anywhere, and the several private schools are first-class. The Texas

WICHITA FALLS, March 31 .- Rev. W. S. Wesley, the cowboy preacher, is holding a revival at the court house this week. He says he herded cattle in Indian days on the spot of land now occupied by the magnifi-cent courthouse of Wichita county, in which he is now holding divine services.

TEXAS PROGRESS.

Dr. Thomason at Texas Wells, Wise county, has contracted for the building of six cottages in his beautiful Woodland park, one of which was finished last week; two more are in process of construction, and the others will follow as fast as the corpenters can put them up.

Two new bridges have been erected on the Newport and Archer City wood the Newport and Archer City road on Lodge creek, Clay county.

Beaumont Journal: A considerable number of buildings are now receiving the fin-ishing touches and will be ready for occu-pancy in the course of a week or two. Among these are the two-story residences of Dr. Cunningham, E. L. Wilson and L. B. Pipkin, all of which are roomy and neat in architecture. In addition to these now under construction, Mr. Solinsky is erect ing three cottages on Pine street, and just above on the same street, Mr. Biddle Langham has nearly completed one and will build four more cottages. Three builders of the city make report of the following: Messrs, France & Robinson have contracts for ten buildings, Mr. Frank Smith has five on hand, and the Ory brothers have con-tracts for five more. Here are about thirty buildings to be erected as soon as possible. Other contracts are being let every day and the year is out there will be perhaps as many as 150 buildings erected.

Anderson, March 20 .- The new courthouse is now being built. A. Buffington, one of the oldest Masons in the county, laid the first brick and then turned the trowel over to the workmen, when they com menced to lay the walls in earnest. A. O. Watson of Austin, the architect, is here superintending the building.

WEATHERFORD, March 31.-Last night at a meeting of the stockholders of the Mutua uliding and loan association of Weather ford, the constitution and by-laws were adopted and the association is now read for business, and will begin April I with bright prospects, as nearly five hundred shares have been taken to begin with. The snares have been taken to begin with. The officers of the company are R. W. Kindel, president; W. W. Davis, vice-president; Matt C. Cameron, treasurer; C. R. Van-Gleson, secretary, and directors; R. W. Kindel, W. W. Davis, John B. Taylor, Henry Mullett, Matt C. Cameron, E. D. Oliver and George A. McCall. Fifty of the mechanics and artisans of this city have formed an association to be called the Mechanics' mutual building and loan association. They now have their charter prepared. They will pay in to begin with $10 each, and $5 each thereafter. But fifty can join. This is a good move in the right direction as it will afford a savings bank for their savings and earnings.

TEXAS NEWS AND NOTES.

Beliville, Austin county, is going to have a stock fair in connection with the annual Matfest. The prizes given will be of sufficient value to bring out the best stock and warrant a fine show.

The largest farmer in the Panhandle, says the Carson County Chronicle, is R. F. Jones of Wilbatger county, who lives in Vernon. He has in cultivation this year 1413 acres, of which 700 are in wheat, 500 in oats and balance in cotton, millet and corn. Last year he had 450 acres.

The Waco News of the 29th ult, had the Waco commandery No. 10 Kuights Templar is advised that Sulphur Springs will be here, thirty strong, and of these eight will be ladies. Belton's delegation will be about the same, with the same proportion of ladies. Dallas will send sixty and Fort Worth about the same; in each of the latter cases the attendance of ladies being about 20 per cent. For all these, quarters have been secured. The Shriners will have their parade and banquet on the will have their parade and banquet on the second day. Many points have been heard from besides those referred to, but without the figures. The attendance at the Grand Commandery will not fall under 800 and may reach 1000.

circles have been in a flurry of excitement for a week in anticipation of the coming nuptuals of Dr. Link of Palestine and Miss nuptuals of Dr. Link of Palestine and Miss Ellie Seale, a beautiful and fascinating girl of Nacogdoches. To-day is the time, and the Episcopal church the place, for the consummation of the vows. Two days ago Miss Seale was attacked with a chill and fever, and she is now thought to be very dangerously ill with pneumonia, and in consequence, the wedding bells will not ring for an indefinite time. The groom is on hand, as is also the family generally.

Decatur, March 31.—Hon. Dempsey Sparkman of Henderson, county attorney of Rusk county, is in the city visiting friends. He will also visit his brother. Dr. J. T. Sparkman, in Alvord while here.

ATLANTA, March 31 .- Rev. J. P. Thorn of this city, who has been appointed chaplain of the peutentiary at Rusk, will leave here to assume his official duties in a few days. The Colorado Clipper has the following on the salt works located there: This great plant uses steam power extensively for raising the brine and running all machinery connected with the solar and steam evap-orating appliances. The solar vats cover about five acres of ground, and the pumps, steam vats, storage buildings, etc., cover about one acre. This plant is fitted up with the pumps of the pump of the pumps. ine, powerful machinery, and the yield per week of pure salt is about 300 tons. Quite an addition in the way of sleam drying machinery has been added to this plant recently, and the output will be much greater in the future in con-quence. This company turns out a large quence. This company turns out a large quantity of salt in the grades, steam re-fined dairy, steam refined table, steam re-fined packing house, besides a stock salt, which is very popular from its purity, etc. This company has not been able to fill all their orders, for two years, the demand being so much greater than the supply, and it is the company's intention to make large additions to the plant during the coming summer and fall.

There is a promise that the Sherwood canning factory will yet become a feature of this place, says the San Angelo Standard, as Messrs, Dan Parker and W. H. Rushing having purchased the franchise and ma-terial of the old company and promise to have the plant in readiness for the season's erop of tomatoes, beans and cern.

A new gin will be put in at Mineral City, Bee county. The machinery is en route. An ice factory will soon be in operation it Wichita. The plant will cost $25,000 and vill have a capacity of tweive and a half

The spring trade is rather atte in opening up, but information from the interior encourges the expectation of large business during the coming months.

The D. R. Wingate lumber company's new mill at Orange has been completed, says the Post, and is now in full operation, making an average daily cut of $1,000 feet of yellow pine lumber. It is claimed by the proprietors to be the only fire-proof mill in the state. Every piece of timber used in the construction of the mill is covered with iron. Judge D. R. VERNON, Tex., March 21, 1891. The Democrat Pub. Co., Fort Worth, Tex.:

Gentlemen-The machine came all O. K. It is a good one, so much better than was looked for at so small a price. It is just as good as my $45 one, and looks better to-day, and does just as good work as any machine. Thanks for the bargain in it. Good luck to The GAZETTE. Respectfully yours, R. P. SANDERS.

ALL THAT IS CLAIMED FOR IT.

Gentlemen-The No. 4 High-Arm premium sewing machine was received in good order, and my wife finds it to be all you claim for it and is quite satisfied that it is equal to any other machine of twice the press you ask for this one. The case, too, is exceedingly landsome and very well finished. I am yours truly,

E. L. Mourant.
